Report 'Well Handled'

Oswald's Brother Approves

WICHITA FALLS (Tex.)—(AP)—Robert Oswald, 30, brother of the accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, said today that while he agrees with the Warren Commission report, one question still is unanswered.

"I can't help feeling that somehow someone originated the idea in Lee's mind, either directly or indirectly," he said.

"Up until yesterday I didn't make any public statements regarding this in the best interests of the investigation."

OSWALD HAS lived here since July 1, when he became sales manager of the Acme Brick Co. He has been with the firm 4½ years and came here from Denton, Tex. Asked if he had been disturbed while living in Denton, Oswald answered:

"On the contrary, I was not and have not been."

Oswald was in Dallas Sunday and was given a copy of the Warren report. He would only say that it was "handed to me by a friend."

Oswald, the father of two, Cathy, 7, and Robert Jr., 3, said he had read only part of the report. "There were a number of areas most particularly of interest to me."

HE SAID HE felt the investigation was "all very well handled" and that during the time he was in Washington last Feb. 20-22, he was "impressed by the great detail they were going into."

The report had one contradiction, Oswald said, and that was in regard to Lee Oswald's ability to drive an auto.

Robert said prior to his brother's entering the Marines in 1956, Lee had the "urge" to drive and on "two occasions I offered to do this (teach him to drive) but somehow we never got around to it." He confirmed the fact that his brother did not drive.

OSWALD confirmed that in recent years he and his brother had not seen much of each other but that they did exchange letters.

Their mother has held the firm belief that Lee was innocent and repeated her views Sunday after reading the report.

Asked about this, Robert said, "she is free to form her own opinions, just as I am."

He added: "I feel very strongly that every American should read the Warren Commission report and should study it."
