

21 July 1971

Dear Harold:

Enclosed are dupes of the only items we have on the Bradley suits.

Separately, dupes of what we have on Gervais, not much, I'm afraid.

Also separately, a 90-minute tape of Thornley with Joe Dolan (about 30 mins) and another of about an hour with a KPFA interviewer, Harry Pollard, in Los Angeles. Both were taped in the summer of 1966. The last three minutes of the Pollard tape is cut off. I believe what is missing contains nothing whatever of interest. Don't return this tape. If the Thornley material is useless, use the tape for your own purposes.

Some odds and ends:

We have nothing on Francis Parker Yockey. I remember his case vaguely and at one time may have kept some clippings on him, but if so they are gone now. I'll keep my eye peeled for anything further.

In a 7/13/71 enclosure to David and Harris you mention an article Fred Cook did on the Miami tapes. Can you, at your convenience, jot down the publication and date? Thanks very much.

In my haste over the weekend I stupidly misdated one of three mailings to you as 17july71. It should have been 19jly71 like the other two, particularly since it replied to yours of the 17th.

On the China caper, the more we think about it the more we feel certain that the utmost importance must be assigned the fact that Nixon and Kissinger felt it absolutely necessary to come up with a fait accompli. A truly historic move has been started, regardless of motive. To back out now would be a disaster from the standpoint of national prestige and image. This is the real frustration for the right, and it will take them time to figure their way around it. It doesn't lessen the long-term danger to Nixon, perhaps especially to Kissinger, but makes a coup indavisable too soon.

Equally important is the Chinese comprehension that they could not use America except through Nixon.

Got to go to work.

Best,
