3/22 *Igather from several press sources in Washington, foreign and domestic, that 100% of the US press is sitting back letting Anderson carry the ball, all alone. This is truly exceptional. No competition when this is the home of all competition? A secretary who went to his office for copies of the new stuff he released outside his column, free to all papers, described the place as a madhouse and everyone there hopelessly snowed under. Figures. There are indications of another thing similar to the old Ogeler story but I did not get the identification over the phone and the call was for a different purpose. In that case the paper gave the tip to a reporter it saw to it had no time to work on it and simultaneously pressed him to complete other work for which he also had no time. Have you heard all this before? H

3/21. I believe I've sent you enough copies of letters for you to have a fair picture of Lattimer. The enclosed add a bit more. If you can figure out how Marshall permitted this except at the urging of someone in the government, I'd sure like to know. As part of a get-Teddy, '72 or later ploy, it is pretty good. It also serves other purposes and can be used as excuse for still others. But in my perhaps prejudiced view, the words to describe this guy have not yet been invented. MAR 23 1972
