

11/14/72 SunDance came yesterday while I was gone. Hil saved the stamps for kids. In removing them she noted your post office ~~is~~ used an undated cancellation, merely "October". I started reading the Nixon^{NOV 16 1972} Mafia story but zonked out sitting up. I'm looking forward to an opportunity for uninterrupted reading and am glad to have it. It seems to havez bit more than I knew in the early part, having to do with El Bosom and the top of the mob. Interestingly, yesterday afternoon Herb Brubaker had shown me the cover picture of LIFE, which has a very unflattering picture of Dirtydick. He asked my opinion, as though his is that it was some kind of bias. My response was undiplomatic under the circumstances, but direct, and it made him chuckle: "I don't think it is distorted or exaggerated". Nixon ain't pretty, nor was any aspect of the election.
