11/18/72 We Have No Muxh For Which To Thank Cyril Dept.: A western Pa. college prof. who had solicited and gotten my opinion, has sent me clips from Pgh. Post Gazette 8/28/72 and Pgh. Press 8/27/72. Not worth time of copying for you, if I had paper. In addition to the gems of wisdom that have glittered before, there are these pearls: "I was quite amazed at the pristine state of that bullet. It was just dented a bit [sic] in ^{the} front." and "Wecht said he is certain there was a coverup of some [sic] information but he didn't think the Warren Commission was to blame, although he said it did a 'sloppy' job." The thing about Cyril is that if one omits the "W" one has said it all. In case you are tired, it is "echt"!! HW

Maxine Eshshire Post 11/19/72 says Winzola McClendon spent last week in New York with Martha, describes McC as "the personal friend everyone was predicting would be M.M.'s ghost writer when she gets ready to tell all..." (Just thought of a phrase, M.M.'s the word.)

Buchwald's today's magnificence "For Richard of for Poover", with the superHoppe of Pat's asked-for resignation, prompts a retrospective view of the post-WG campaign. It in there is no indication of any John M participation, even on the q.t., and makes me wonder if the Dirtydickery, not the Martha ministry, prompted what Martha's clamor covered. H
