

Je: A while ago you sent three Chinese characters you said read All Water Gate, ad... #16
"you illiterate or something?" (Ans "yes", to "illiterate" and to "something".) My question is, were you for real or joking? I'd like to knit that into a little thing but ~~was~~ 1972 be sure. (I once saw a button that was in Chinese and had an alleged translation papered into the back. I was also told it was a duplicate of a Hongkong license to whore. I don't know if the tale was a joke, but it makes me a bit cautious, being illiterate.) Never thought to try it on Lesar, who knows some Chinese, when he was here last. Might be fun on a little wall decoration, a tied, scarf, etc., and it ~~is~~ could be small enough for easy carrying. She is working on an afghan that a friend intends to wear. HW

10/12/72 Thanks for Turner's book.
Came today. Copier repaired this evening, so don't be bashful if you want copies of the stories I said I could copy. ~~Fred~~ 1972 ordered and would be here before any request could reach me. The way the now badly-named Watergate thing is going, I'll try to get the Post each ~~day~~ instead of making copies, sending clips. Missed yesterday's but should have to include with this or next mailing. Current TIME has a five-column editorial by Sley and another with the headline asking isn't anybody indignant any more? Can't copy if you want. Hope you are having a good vacation, with the construction work completed. H

Li Fei?
