

I've just begin Scott's The War Conspiracy. Ed Williams, who is in books and is well ~~informed~~, informed, says it is being killed. It is a small book yet priced at $7.50. It seems to be well organized, broken down with subheads, and the index is a bit more than one of proper names only. From from a subject index, however. If you do not have the book, you can borrow mine. If Ed is 2: right it will be remaindered. If he is wrong it may get into paperback. Much of it will not be you to me, as it is not to me, but there likewise may be things you will want to have. So, if you do not want to put out the $7.50, the pages you want you can copy from mine. In answering your ?about Bill Costello, I told you that he was, as he had been when with Mutual news, located in Tommy Corcoran's law firm. I had had a slight idea of Corcoran's international and domestic operations, but not nearly enough of his CIA connections, going back at least to Chenault. A pretty fair summary is in the Introduction to Peter Scott's The War Conspiracy. Tommy holds and pulls many corks, of which a large percentage appear to be CIA. HW 1028.72
