

Dear Jim, This is to amplify what I hope will be picked up in the mailbox today. At 4:30 the state police told me that 90% of the county roads are impassible. We have a good snow and the wind that gave is the wind that also took away, so maybe. Rough weather! Yesterday I got from Weicher two of the things I'd asked for, his insertion of Nixon and his tax-break papers from the Archives and the 25-page staff memo on Hunt, which Baker had described as merely a biography. It has much of interest in it, including still another series of indications of what the committee elected to ignore. I am sure you will want a copy. But I am not sure when I'll be going to Washington again. 25 pages is much time here and quite a bit more in cost. Besides, I'm sure Cesar will want a copy, so I'll get it xeroxed. Unless you were able to read the note and say you don't want it...When I had merely begun to read it I decided to phone Sussman and suggest that for his own purposes he should have this and to say that if he does not get it I'll give him a copy. I also told him mine had passages masked, so his might be a different version. He told me that the late edition had a story he knew would interest me. He is right. The Hunt story of the day before is exactly what I blurted out so indelicately, Bullshit! They got the domestic-intelligence story, I suppose in a still a different and anti-Baker leak. It gives a few names, a 1700 Penna Ave address that I think preceeds the rebuilding of that corner, etc. Barry said he'd send me a copy and I'll send it to you. Interesting that radio did not give this the heavy play it gave the fake, like TV not mentioning it at all on the news programs I caught. I don't think you'll want the tax statement, but if you do, it is blue and much in small type, so I'd recommend a printed copy, which Weicher will give. He had reprints made...Hope you have a good season and that the relatively long silence means no colds or other indispositions. If as I hope with a little more help from the sun we can now get out, we have a funeral, Phil's older uncle, past 85...From the past I'd predict a rough winter here, in 5-6 day cycles. We won't even try to get ~~him~~ to the cemetery. Imagine two blizzards in a single week. Like old times, boyhood. Best, HW 12/22/73
