I was wrong. There is, too, a real Jack Pearl (The Plot To Kill the President). Not the "Was 'ou Dere, Sharlie" guy, who I did remember, but a slick novelist. In Contemp. Authors....JER refusing to leave max security cell because of in-jail shootings! He's been fighting to not be the only prisoner in administrative confinement, despite my heavy counter effort, and now he will not even leave to see his own local lawyer when he gets there with a subpoena and really needs to see the client....He seems not to have been getting mail from Jerry or me...Now is the time I'd like to be there. I'd be willing to go to him and in other jails they've allowed half-way. He might now have changed his mind about the leads I've sought. He can't name names, and any names he knows have to be fake. Response to State's response under time pressure because they didn't mail until week after they told judge, limiting our time to four days-for 19 pp. HW 1/9/73
