

Hoppe on the "oodle Bill and org confronts me with a most serious problem: should I let Lil read? She has such criminal tendencies. The most immediate concern is BROWN rice (wogstuff). She is hooked on that ~~WOG~~ (org) which we get from a natural-food company (ORG itself!). But maybe there is hope. The last batch had bugs in it and I'm feeding it to the birds. There may be moral questions about feeding such things to wildlife that I may have to face at some time, but meanwhile, the incriminating evidence is disappearing, slowly but regularly. I guess this on turn reflect the patriotic fervor and common sense of the birds, whose preference is for corn saturated with contaminants and stale commercial bread from which many nutrients have been removed. (Is there yet a law against subverting birds?) Has the paper yet promoed with the lone Where There's Life There's Hoppe?

1/12/73, 3+ p.m. JUST BEFORE THE RADIO <sup>5-7</sup> OF the second Newsday story. It makes no sense, but the plea-copping after Hunt and by his colleagues of the past does. Ian is not in. He was to try to get the first and I'll ask him to get this. The trial is going like a three-week novel! By Hunt yet. It looks more and more like Lid.y would not take a dive and will get concrete shoes instead. He doesn't want to be disabred, among other things. I suppose the a.m. Post will have the essence.
