

HW: Return herewith the very interesting tape of the talk with Mme. Drury. We finally got around to listening to it. Offhand, I'd say she seems a bit short on factual supporting details, and my net impression is one along some vague line that she's trying to do her work with very little to go on. This may be unjust, of course. You have to take into account the fact that we have only this one tape to go on and that much of what you were discussing was beyond anything we had the background to grasp. But it was indeed interesting, and thanks for giving us a chance to hear it.
