

Bulletin! Skolnäck is safe and scared in Canada. He says the Watergators are out to get him. What an all-points police achievement: he drove all the way to Detroit without tags in a red car and was not spotted. Nor was the car, abandoned in a Detroit parking lot. To assure his safety he advertised the precise location of his motel and then added his special security provision - chest of drawers against door. If one of his local enemies now took vengeance, all of Chicago would blame in on the feds who must love him because all his criticisms turn out invalid, making them look good. HW 3/31/73
