

20 May 1973

HW:

The attached story from the NYTimes of 11May73 contains material which was omitted from the NYT Service version printed in the Chronicle and sent to you earlier. I send in case you missed the Times version, since the additional material appears contradictory with the official story that Liddy is going great guns as a popular fella because he gives free legal advice. Note he's had several scraps, not just the one over the hairbrush, and has ASKED to be moved from minimum security quarters to maximum security where he apparently prefers the company of hardened felons to what he ran into in minimum security, like Hunt. Looks like this is a situation to keep an eye on..
