

Dear Jim, I'm supposed to get a callback from Art Kevin, if he gets home on time, too soon to start anything, so let me update on the Jaworski story, which shows good signs of taking off. I believe that during the excitement this p.m. when Lesar was here I wrote a brief one, and then things started to happen. Hanrahan came up from the Post, went over and copied what he wants, and he is satisfied that the Texas report, on which Jaworski held a post comparable to the present, is a nothing. Hanrahan knows he has all because I went for Lil, gave him the files and the copying machine, and let him copy what he wanted. He knows, in fact, that I don't know what he took. His was the second call from the Post Clairborne is working on other aspects, and I helped him by phone. (London Times carrying too. Callback told me.) Now UPI finally did carry the KMPC story, with credit, so AP called Art. Both A-wired. Meanwhile, when Art called back I had a new lead for him and, as always follows an effort to hide, a very good new story emerged, already aired out there. This CIA stuff did NOT end with the student scandals, and I gave Art the name of the wise-acre Wall Street lawyer who blabbed without knowing it. To not farther back than 1970! And Jaworki personally gave the money to the New Yorkers, whose answer was we didn't ask whose it was....The Star called back late, when Hanrahan was here, so I put them on the CIA story and in touch with art. They did call him, and did others. In fact, the news director told me their phone has been busy today! But I have no way of evaluating the play because I've not had time to play the radio. Hanrahan, wife and two infants were here for supper. We heard part of the TV news only. Upbeat, seems. ...Art has a good Texas phone source on corporations now, thus I'll be reading stuff for checking when he calls...I think that when this is followed by the Texas Court of Inquiry stuff, the Jaworski former Cox staff will at least be on the alert. If it gets a play, more than that. But atop the Post's Saxbe story today, our Glorious Leader is not returning in a burst of what I think he'll really regard as glory...The jurists outfit Anderson Fund. Jaworski financed not indexed in The Espionage Establishment. It is on 126 paperback edition and the guy I suggested Art call is Eli Whitney Debevoise. Fits nicely with the next graf, too...I don't know if it means anything or if it does it he can get anything, but $24,000 of the after-laundry Mexican money was drawn on the ~~Bank~~ Bank of American, SF, and I've got that waiting for him. (If I had an agent I could have sold all of this!)...I think that whatever does or does not now follow, the Cox firing has a fitting epitaph. GL picks 'em. And to each reporter I've suggested that the CIA connection should have shown in the FBI investigation. All agreed. ...If the Star follows up well (Orr Kelly) maybe we'll have more on the spooks. Tentative title: The Spooking of the Spooks...Don't know what happened at the Post. They lost almost a week on the story and a scoop. Hanrahans seem like nice people. Best, HW 11/5/73 night.
