

... Jim, with an ear on the a.m. TV news a note of thanks for what again became apparent early this a.m. as I completed the chapter Crime for Nixon Does Pay (Double entendre intended) There was a KPFA graf on Hunt's stock portfolio that led me to a more (but still in-)complete LATimes version, which was enough. It worked in nicely with the other similar stuff, like what I developed on the DHunt crash, estate, etc. (Hunt is close to a millionaire unless his stocks fell badly.) Ditto for less than a stick from NYTimes on Bittman and several other short clips in recent uses. They have been very helpful. So also the snaps for the ribbons. This new one went through when I out on (I test both ends now to begin with), a simple suggestion that prevents great annoyance when there is trouble in the middle of complicated weaving together. Which is what most of this book really is, a subplot being to show it was all open and available and yet suppressed by the media and investigations...As I finished this long chapter, with reference to Buckley's Balt. & Hunt's lawyer, Wm Snyder, I found myself thinking he or the NYU one, C. Dickerman Williams, had had a CIA career. But I found no such clip. Sound familiar to you?...I have the Peter Wolf affidavit. His client picked up 8 boxes of Hunt's files at EOB Sunday 6/18/74. No investigation. 8 boxes?!!! HW 8/1/74
