

i suppose you can imagine how i feel now that the cia is coming accross with some king files - after whatever more stalling they think they can still get away with. the volume boggles the mind if their search fee is honest. $1,000 is very much searching. it can't be because that is the time it will take to locate, so i do wonder. i also wonder if they have finally decided to try to bury me in paper now that the fbi is also disgorging. effective way to keep me off of jfk. nonetheless, not bad. the archive will be fabulous...arm ^{giving} less trouble. being careft it is improving and has not been really painful. even deep winter weather not hard on us. local kids engoying 4" smooth ice. like to see them have fun. some skated by flashlight tonight.
