

JDW - Dave phoned last week. He raved about your Chinese raviolis - everything about them, from the amount and skill of the work to the taste. Gather you had a very pleasant visit. Fantastic excursion rate! He is concerned about the lack of pr performance by his publisher. The publisher may believe that what Dave wants isn't practical for that kind of book and price. The average talk show host and audience may not appreciate the popular content of that kind of biblio. They were to have been in touch with me, haven't been and appear to lied to Dave, claiming to have written me in June. Hope all is well with you and that you are as happy and successful with the great good you do. Best, HW 9/14/80
